PIONEER WASHER.
E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and loading, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes.

It having a tight cover, the steam thus assists materially in cleansing the clothes, and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

THE COUNTY RIGHTS, now unsold, will be sold at a bargain if applied for soon.

For Reference, enquire at the Mansion House, and of John Wilson.

STEAMER
U. S. GRANT,
Will make Two Trips per Week to the
CITY OF ASTORIA!
Carrying Passengers at $10, the Round Trip,
(Meals Included.)

The Boat leaves Portland Wednesdays and Saturdays at 7½ A. M. Returning leaves Astoria Thursdays and Mondays at 6 o'clock A M

Every person purchasing a Passenger Ticket will be presented with one of 500 Prize Tickets, to be drawn on the 1ST DAY OF AUGUST, 1867, for the following Prizes:

Steamer U. S. GRANT, to be divided into 4 shares,
ONE BLOCK OF LOTS IN EAST PORTLAND, divided into 8 shares, or one lot to the share, viz: Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 17, opposite the "New Columbian" Hotel, and at the terminus of the proposed Suspension Bridge.
ONE GOLD WATCH, worth $100;
150 CORDS DRY FIR WOOD, in 3 shares, to be placed on the Brooklyn Wharf.
The tiverwatch is 54 tons burthen, 62 horse-power engine, propeller wheel, draft of water 6 feet. She is being thoroughly refitted and refurnished as a Passenger Boat. The Boat will be delivered in perfect order, free from all incumbrance, and Warranty Deeds made for the real estate, to the persons drawing the prizes. Tickets can be had of C P. FERRY, in Portland, where the money will be left on deposit till the prizes are drawn and delivered.

Any person having a claim against me, and wishing a ticket, can get an order for one by calling on me on board the boat. The person drawing the gold watch can have $100 in gold coin, if preferred

C. P. FERRY, Broker; R. J. LADD, ex-Sheriff; AL ZEIBER, U. S. Marshal, and C. S. SILVER, Merchant, of Portland, are the Committee and Judges to direct the Drawing of Prizes. The Prizes will be drawn before the 1st of August, if all the tickets are taken before that time.

The above liberal offer is made to the traveling public to enable the subscriber to pay his debts, and not with any reference to speculation, as all the property is valued at much less than its cost, (the Steamer alone having cost $17,000), and the price for carrying passengers to Astoria being much less than the usual fare.

Portland May 21, 1867. d2m J. W. KERN.

Notice.
OWING TO THE STEAMER U. S. GRANT having lost several regular trips, she will continue to run for a few weeks, to give all those holding an opportunity to travel. The tickets stand good for a passage as long as the boat continues to run. A few more tickets yet to be disposed of.

Opinion of Judge Deady in the Case of the United States vs. H. W. Davis.

Circuit Court United States District of Oregon, September Term, 1867—The United States vs. Herman W. Davis et al—Action upon official bond of Postmaster.

This action was commenced on September 4, 1867, to recover a balance of account due the Post office Department of $3,025 84. On September 9, 1867, the defendant Davis and his two sureties, Robert Pentland and James B. Stephens, by an attorney of this court, appeared and answered. The answer was verified by the principal defendant, Davis, and set forth a counter claim for moneys expended by Davis for office rent, clerk hire, fuel, etc. A demurrer to the answer was sustained, except an item concerning the amount of stamps delivered by Davis to his successor. To this allegation there was a reply by the plaintiff, and the cause stands for trial upon that issue of fact

Now comes Robert Pentland, and moves the court for leave to appear and answer the complaint. This motion is supported by the affidavit of Pentland, in which he alleges that from the tenor of the summons and the advice of counsel thereon, he came to the conclusion that he was not required to appear and answer before the next January term of this Court, and that consequently he did not appear or authorize any one to appear or answer for him.

When it satisfactorily appears that an attorney, through misapprehension or otherwise, has appeared for a party without authority, the Court will relieve the latter from the consequences of such appearance, upon a timely application. It is altogether probable that the answer filed for the defendant Pentland, was so done, at the instigation of Davis, who may have thought it proper to do so, to protect his surety. While the affidavit of Pentland is flatly opposed by the fact that as appears by the record, an appearance was made and an answer filed for him by an attorney of this Court, yet I think that I am warranted in concluding that the answer was filed for him through misapprehension of his co-defendant, and that his affidavit is true.

This leaves the application to answer now, to rest upon the ground of Pentland's alleged misunderstanding of the effect of the summons. As to the effect of a summons, and when a party is required to appear and answer to avoid suffering a default, the rule is the same in this Court as in the State Courts. The summons served on Pentland, required him to appear in "this Court," "to be holden at Portland," "to answer the United States in an action," etc. Defendant now alleges, that because of the words, "to be holden," he inferred that he was required to appear and answer at a future term of the Court, namely the next January term. That these words taken by themselves are susceptible of such a construction, may be admitted. But the purpose and effect of the summons is regulated by law. Its purpose is simply to inform the defendant that an action has been commenced against him, and in what Court, and by whom. When served, the effect there is declared by law. Subdivision 1, of section 51 of the code of C. P., declares what the effect of service shall be, the defendant must appear and answer within a certain time from the date of service, or he will be taken to be in default. It is not necessary that this provision of law be recited in the summons, nor does it matter, if the time for answering falls within the same term of the Court as that within which the action is commenced. When a defendant is duly notified that an action has been commenced against him, and where and by whom, he must look to the law for directions when to appear and answer.

Yet this appears to be a case where a Court might properly interfere to relieve a party from the consequences of an innocent mistake, and if it shall appear that the defendant has a meritorious defence to the action, the motion ought to prevail.

The affidavit simply alleges that the defendant believes he has "a good and valid defence to the larger part, if not to the whole of the claim of the plaintiff." During the argument of the motion, upon a suggestion from the Court to the counsel, that the affidavit should disclose the nature of the defence, so as to enable the Court to judge of its merits, counsel read the answer which the defendant proposed to file, if leave was granted him, and the motion will be treated as for leave to file the answer exhibited to the Court.

The answer alleges that as to all the sums claimed by the plaintiff, except the last two items in the account, amounting in the aggregate to $1,145 93, the action is barred as to this defendant by the statute of limitations.

The Postoffice Act of March 3, 1825 provides that the Postmaster General shall obtain from the postmasters their accounts once in three months, with the balance thereon arising, in favor of the general postoffice; and that if any postmaster shall neglect to pay over the balance by him due at the end of every three months, the Postmaster General shall cause a suit to be commenced by him for such neglect. (Brightly's Dig., 76—1.) Section 3 of the same act also provides for taking bonds from postmasters, with security, with the proviso: "That if default be made by the postmaster aforesaid at any time, and the Postmaster General shall fail to institute suit against such postmaster and said sureties, for two years from and after such default shall be made, then and in that case the said sureties shall not be held liable to the United States, nor shall suit be instituted against them."

The defence sought to be made by the answer now proposed to be filed, is based upon these provisions of this statute. The statute has been considered by the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Jones vs. The United States, (7 How, 681,) and in the case of P. M. General vs. Fennell et al, (1 McLean, 217).

These cases determine:

1. That it is the duty of a postmaster to render his accounts and pay over any balance due by him at the end of every three months, and that if he fails to do so, he becomes a defaulter and is liable to an action on his bond.

2. That it is the duty of the Postmaster General to cause an action to be commenced for any balance due at the end of any quarter, and that if he does not within two years from the defalcation or the time of the balance becoming due, the sureties of the postmaster are so far exonerated from liability.

Each quarter or period of three months during the term the postmaster is in office is deemed to be a distinct period, and any balance due at the end of such period is a separate and distinct defalcation, and as to the sureties the limitation of two years commences to run as to each balance and defalcation from the end of the quarter to which it relates and not the last quarter of the term or account.

The defendant Davis' accounts as postmaster at Portland commenced with the fractional quarter ending December 31, 1861, and ended with a fractional quarter, on November 4, 1865. During all this period, there appears to have been balances at the end of each quarter due the government, which remain unpaid. No question of the appropriation of payments or credits arises in this case upon the proposed answer of Pentland. All the payments made by Davis are less than the sum due from him by the sum of $3,025 84. These Pentland is willing should be all applied upon such of the quarterly balances as are barred by the statute of limitations. The quarter ending June 30, 1865, and all the quarters antecedent thereto, come within the purview of this proviso. As to these balances or defalcations the suit is not brought within "two years from and after such default," and therefore the "sureties shall not be held liable" therefor. The balances due on the quarter ending September 30, and November 4, 1865, are within the two years and the sureties are still bound for them. The answer proposes to confess judgment for these, amounting in the aggregate to $1,145 93. There can be no question then but that the answer now proposed to be filed contains a legal defence. But the defendant is in default in not making his defence within the time prescribed to answer, and the Court when asked to relieve him from this default, may in its discretion refuse the application, if it appear to be made for the purpose of interposing a defence. Pleas in abatement, by which the defendant seeks to delay or avoid the action on technical grounds are always regarded as defences without merit. The statute of limitations is generally regarded as such a defence. But the rule as to it, is not without exceptions. The case of a surety on an official bond, ought to be considered favorably in this regard. In the case from 1 McLean, the Court says: The statute (of limitation) "was adopted for the benefit of securities and to excite the utmost degree of vigilance in the department. * * * In almost all

Taxing Government Securities.

The general principles of the law in relation to the respective powers of the States and of the General Government over the subject of taxation, the right of the latter to prevent the former from taxing any of its operations and the consequent exemption, on just theory, of United States bonds and their issues from State or municipal taxation, have already been shown by citing the powerful reasoning of Chief Justice Marshall. It should be added that the Court unanimously concurred in the opinion rendered by the Chief Justice. We now come to another case in which the same principles are involved, and which serve to render the subject even more clear to the popular mind than the opinion already cited; because in the case now before us the questions raised correspond exactly with the questions raised before the people at this time respecting the taxation of United States bonds in the hands of individuals. In the year 1829, (2 Peters 449) by an ordinance of the city of Charleston, South Carolina, "stock of the United States" was, among other things, made taxable. The owners of the stock contested the right of the city to levy such tax, and the case came from the State Courts to the Supreme Court of the United States. Chief Justice Marshall delivered the opinion. The question was whether stock or bonds issued for loans made to the Government of the United States and held by an individual citizen of a State, could be taxed under the authority of a State or corporation. This, it will be observed, is precisely the question which is raised by demagogues at this time, and decided by them in the affirmative. We shall see how Marshall got on with it and what conclusion he reached on the subject.

It was remarked that the Constitution confers on Congress the power "to borrow money on the credit of the United States." "The stock it issues is the evidence of a debt created by the exercise of this power." A tax levied by a State upon these evidences of debt, "is a tax upon the contract subsisting between the Government and the individual. It bears directly upon that contract, while subsisting and in full force. The power operates upon the contract the instant it is framed; and must imply a right to effect that contract."

It has already been shown by citations from the Constitution that "the States have no power, by taxation or otherwise, to retard, impede, burden or in any manner control the operations of the constitutional laws enacted by Congress to carry into execution the powers of the General Government." A law enacted by Congress to raise money on the credit of the United States is enacted under the provision of the Constitution which gives Congress the power to "borrow money," etc; the bonds issued are "evidence of the debt thus created"; and if the States may tax them the act "must imply a right to affect the contract" between the Government and the individual, and consequently a right to burden or control the operation of the constitutional laws enacted by Congress to carry into execution the powers of the General Government. Thus the inadmissibility of the tax proposed is clearly shown. We cite at some length from the reasoning of the Court:

> If the States and corporations throughout the Union possess the power to tax a contract for the loan of money (to the Government) what shall arrest this principle in its application to every other contract? What measure can the Government adopt that will not be exposed to its influence?
> But a unnecessary to pursue this principle through its unrestricted application to all contracts, and to the various operations of Government. No one can be entitled which is of more vital interest to the community than this power of borrowing money on the credit of the United States. No power has been conferred by the American people on their government, the free and unhindered exercise of which more deeply affects every member of our republic. In war, when the honor, the safety, the independence of the nation are to be defended, when all its resources must be strained to the utmost must be brought in aid of taxation, and the ordinary revenue of peace and prosperity must be inadequate to supply the urgent demands of the moment. The people, for objects the most important, which can occur in the progress of nations, have conferred their Government to make these enterprises fail borrow money on the credit of the United States. Can anything be more dangerous or more unwise, than the admission of a principle which authorizes every State and corporation on the face to burden the exercise of this power at their discretion?

After reaffirming the opinions expressed in the Maryland case four years earlier, the Chief Justice remarked that a contract made by the Government to the same effect "its power to borrow money on the credit of the United States, is undoubtedly subject to and the will of any State in which the contract may reside, and is undoubtedly an operation essential to the important objects for which the Government was created. It ought therefore to be exempt from State taxation and consequently from being taxed by corporations deriving their power from States."

Those who insist upon taxing the stock of the United States deny that they wish to obstruct the operations of the General Government, declare that they wish to impose on bonds only the same tax to which all other property is subject, contend for this tax as an act of justice, and affirm that the exercise of this power by States or corporations would not be injurious to the General Government. They also insist that to tax bonds already issued would be no interference with the power of the Government of the Union. Let us see how the Chief Justice meets these points:

> The right to tax the contract to any extent, whose mandate must operate upon the power to borrow, and can be exercised, and have a sensible influence on the contract. The extent of this influence depends upon the will of a distinct government. It may be carried, to a considerable, it is a burden upon the operations of Government. It may be carried to an extent which shall arrest them entirely. The American people have conferred the power of borrowing money on their Government, and, by making that Government supreme, have shielded its action, in the exercise of this power, from the action of the local governments. The grant of this power is incompatible with a restraining or controlling power, and the declaration of supremacy is a declaration that no such restraining or controlling power shall be exercised.

On these principles the Supreme Court has repeatedly held that a tax cannot be levied on debts due from the Government. Such tax, to quote the language of Marshall, "is a tax on the contract, a tax on the power to borrow money on the credit of the United States, and consequently repugnant to the Constitution."

In 1862 a case came before the Supreme Court of the United States from New York city, involving substantially the same principles as the case we have been considering. This was after the act of Congress was passed declaring the old principles of the law on the subject of taxing bonds. The Court held, Chief Justice Taney assenting, that the bonds were not taxable; that the stocks issued before the passage of the law of Congress commonly called the law exempting bonds from taxation, were exempt the same as those which were issued after the law was passed; that the act of Congress made no change in the law, but simply declared the law; that the bonds were exempted by the Constitution from taxation, and that any attempt to tax them was an interference with the powers of the General Government and therefore unconstitutional. We shall refer to this case at length, both to further illustrate the law on the subject and to show by the testimony of a Democratic Supreme Court that the Republican party is not responsible for the exemption of bonds from taxation.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO OCTOBER 16.

New England Items.

BOSTON, Oct. 16.—Charles F. Dana, a member of the Governor's Council, died suddenly of throat disease.

CONCORD, (N. H.), Oct. 16.—The Governor and Council, yesterday, sold all the public lands belonging to the State, about 60,000 acres, located in Grafton, Carroll and Coos counties, under an act of the Legislature, for $25,000.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—There was a fearful accident on the London and Hampshire railroad yesterday, near Leesburg. The engine and baggage car were thrown down an embankment twenty feet. Nobody was killed, and persons only injured; none fatally.

The Impeachment Movement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Sun's special says members of the Judiciary Committee in favor of the impeachment, are confident the project will receive the approbation of a majority of the House. They will press the subject early in the session.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Jim Macé, the pugilist, was arrested in hall last night and put under bonds to keep the peace. He was about to fight the Irish Giant for the championship. It is asserted that the pugilists were to cross to France or Ireland and fight. Some are of the opinion that Macé sold the fight purposely.

There are wild rumors that the Fenians are planning to seize the person of Queen Victoria at Balmoral. Little credence is given to the report, but precautionary measures have been taken and the household guard at Balmoral is doubled.

LONDON, Evening, Oct. 15.—The Fenian alarm is spreading. The Government are in receipt of many dispatches announcing the possible plans of the brotherhood. Troops and gunboats have been dispatched to Ireland and the entire western coast is guarded with extraordinary vigilance.

The news from Italy to night, is very important. The entire press of Italy is almost without exception in favor of the seizure of Rome by the Government. The strength of the party of action increases hourly, and recent successes have given them new courage. Sharp fights have occurred at various points in the province of Viterbo, in all of which the insurgents were successful. The Pope has called an immediate meeting of the Cardinals to consider the situation.

FLORENCE, Oct. 16.—Last advices from the Papal forces say they are falling back on Rome.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—It is reported that Marshal Narvaez, the Spanish premier, has offered Napoleon the assistance of Spain in sustaining the temporal power of the Pope.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.

Business generally suspended on account of the election, which passed off quietly. The vote will be light, probably 1,500 less than in the late election. The probabilities are that the Democratic local ticket is elected by a small majority. There was a great deal of scratching in favor of Swift, Curry and McKinstry. The damaging charges of Father Colter against McKinstry created considerable excitement among the Irish Catholics. The Germans, however, scratched Cowles in McKinstry's favor, and the latter is probably elected. The 1st, 2d, 4th, 10th and 11th wards have certainly gone Democratic, the 10th by a large majority. The 3d, 5th and 12th are doubtful. The Union ticket carried in the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th. The Democratic majority in the 10th is so large that it is feared the Union majorities in other wards will not counterbalance it.

Money Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—Private telegrams quote gold in New York at 10 o'clock this morning at 144¾, and sterling at 109¾.

Legal tenders are without change, brokers buying at 70 and selling at 70¼.

The Markets.

Flour—Large sales of Oregon at extra at current rates. Vineyard extra at $8. Half sacks city brands same as last quotations.

Wheat—Market unsettled. Fair to choice quoted at $2 50@2 70; poor coast at $2 47½; good shipping $2 60@2 62½; ordinary $2 40.

Barley—Sales light. Coast feed $1 70; choice new brewing $1 80; old brewing $1 85@1 95.

Oats—Light coast $1 65, good $1 80; extra choice heavy $1 90, extreme figure.

Potatoes—Mission $1 62½@1 75.

The receipts of wheat this season have been unusually large. Valparaiso dates to the 23 ult., quote wheat at $3 75 @ 105 lbs, and flour at $3 95 @ 100 lbs. Demand confined to local trade.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The result of the judicial election in this State is not yet known. The returns at hand indicate that the total vote was about 70,000, that the Democratic majorities have been considerably reduced since September, and that the vote for Supreme Judge and Superintendent of Public Instruction is very close between the Union and Democratic parties. The total number of votes cast in San Francisco county was 13,531. Sprague's majority is 1,657, Fitzgerald's 1,095.

Democratic county ticket is elected by the following majorities: McKinstry, County Judge, 1,126; Wright, Probate Judge, 1,700; Bonifas, Police Judge, 1,240.

Supervisors Reynolds and others, concerned in the Mission squatter riots, were before the police court today. The charge of murder was withdrawn and that of manslaughter substituted. Their bail bonds were fixed at $10,000 each.

Ellen Gaspil, convicted of manslaughter on the high seas, was to-day sentenced to three years' imprisonment. The motion for a new trial in the case of McCall against Gen. McDowell for alleged imprisonment is on argument this morning before the judges in the Circuit Court.

The receipts of treasure from the interior of the State and Nevada for the past ten days, aggregate about one million; from the north coast, $140,000. The shipment of treasure for the past ten days aggregates nearly two millions, including $1,100,000 to Asia, per steamer China.

Money Market.

Gold—Private telegrams quote gold at 143½; sterling, 109@109¼, in New York this morning.

Legal Tenders—70@70¼.

The Markets.

Flour—New York telegrams of to-day quote California flour at $13 75, and wheat at $2 20.

Liverpool wheat market yesterday, 17s for California white. Flour we quote superfine halves $7@7 25; qrs $7 25@7 50; extra $7 75@8; qrs $8@8 25.

Wheat—In view of the proximity of steamer day, and a very general effort to check advancing prices, the market is apparently at a dead lock. Leading shippers are no longer purchasing in this city, though it is currently reported and generally believed that they are purchasing in the Sacramento at $2 40 and upwards. The millers are also standing aloof, being temporarily supplied. The receipts have suddenly fallen off over 50 per cent., aggregating for the twenty-four hours, ending to-day noon, only about ten thousand sacks. This decrease of course is but temporary, and is the effect of the advancing condition of the market. In the present unsettled condition of the market, prices have of course assumed a wide range, say $2 25@2 65 for ordinary to choice.

Barley—We quote the market at $1 70@1 80 for new feed, and brewing at $1 85@1 95 for old.

Oats—Small sales within the range, $1 60@1 85.

Shipping.

Arrived, Oct. 17th—Moses Taylor, from San Juan del Sur.

Sailed—Steamer Orifiamme.

FROM OWYHEE.

From the Avalanche of the 12th we get the following:

The camp is fast recovering from the "strike," nearly all the companies have commenced work again—some at the former wages and a few at increased rates. Ere long the wages will most likely settle down at the old basis of $5 per day, which is about right, if paid in gold or its equivalent. Many of the "strikers" have left the country, while some of the more sensible that remain have come to the conclusion that the movement is a failure—however, it has had the effect of inaugurating the system of contracts, which hitherto has not been much in vogue here. The Oro Fino Co. have let two contracts to run two tunnels—one fifty and the other one hundred feet in length. A contract has also been let to sink a shaft one hundred feet on the Poorman.

Altogether, business of every description begins to assume a much better appearance. Six mills are running nearly all the time. Black's mill is also pounding away in Flint, and the Iowa Company will probably start their new mill next week. The redundant population has almost entirely disappeared, and no laboring man need remain idle if he desires to work.

The Oro Fino mine is supplied with laborers again—some by the day and some by contracts. Rich ore is coming out, with the best of prospect for a continuance. A house has recently been erected over the dump, and in it the quartz is broken and assorted, and the men are shielded both from storms and oppressive sunshine. The Company has decided to sink a shaft on the extreme south line of the claim, to fully prove up its extent. At this point the ledge is found near the surface to be over two feet wide, clearly defined and the ore bearing a fine mineral stain—some being spotted with free gold. The vein here is much decomposed and blasting is not required. A shaft will be put down fifty—probably one hundred—feet as fast as possible.

Just above and to the West about 75 to 100 feet are the ledge and works upon which Col. Fogus & Co. are working, and a little to the south the vein and works of—well, we don't know who, but it is the ground claimed by Hill Beachy & Co. as the Golden Chariot, and by Fred. Reuter & Co. as the North Star. We understand that the controversy is in a fair way of amicable adjustment, and that Webb & Myrick and G. W. Grayson have become interested parties. Work has been recommenced, both in the tunnel started to strike the vein and on the vein itself.

Col. Fogus & Co. are pushing work with much energy. They have a double shaft down over fifty feet, and timbered in a neat and substantial manner. We are informed that the ledge is three feet wide in the bottom, and the quartz very well charged with the precious minerals. Roads have been made to the mine, and a shaft-house will be put up soon. A large boarding house is being prepared, and surface improvements generally being made preparatory to winter.

It commenced snowing last Saturday night, and continued to do so until towards Monday evening, when it cleared up, and the snow has now entirely disappeared.

Haight's majority for Governor in the city of San Francisco was 4,208. The majority for Sprague, Democrat, in the judicial election, is less than 1,600. This shows a reduction of the Democratic majority in San Francisco of nearly 3,000 votes. If the same rate of decrease is observed throughout the State, the Republicans have carried the election.

ELOPEMENT.—The Salem Record has the following:

It has been currently reported for several days past that Lyts, the gallant auctioneer, has left us, and that a frail article of the other sex has left four trifling responsibilities and one at the breast, to share the fortunes of the irresistible Lyts. The young woman can figure up her future destination to a nicety. The late partner of the fortunes of the auctioneer is now in the Insane Asylum, where she went after making two attempts at suicide, one a pistol shot, the other by morphine. It was fashionable to call the lady Mrs. Lyts, but when she became a candidate for the Insane Asylum, that fellow's oath established the fact that she bore another name, which relieved him of her support. How many more of the sex will fall victims to his superior fascinations, time only can determine. Salem is a bad place for auctioneers, as this is the second one who has appropriated another man's wife.

MALHEUR DIGGINGS.—The Idaho World has the following.

A rumor is in circulation that rich and extensive diggings have lately been discovered on the headwaters of the Malheur river, and large parties were fitting out at Boise City and Owyhee for the camp. We have been unable to trace the rumor to any reliable source, but are inclined to give credence to the story, as it is known that a strong party from the Dalles and Canyon City have been for some time prospecting in that region and they may have brought word into Owyhee, whence the rumor was said to have originated.

LICENSE.—Col. Forney, in one of his letters from Paris, says:

> There is license for everything in France but the licenses of speaking and writing against the Government. You may be an Infidel, a Turk, a Mormon, or an American rebel, you may live as you like and die as you choose, if only you observe this plain condition. The Emperor having taken the contract of government into his own hands, seems resolved to please his people in all other respects; and nothing shows his sincerity more than his anxiety to make Paris as agreeable to strangers as it is to natives.

Ten thousand men and thirteen hundred teams are now employed on the Pacific Railroad. It is completed one hundred and fifteen miles east of Sacramento. The company hopes to increase its force to fifteen thousand during the present season.

WHITE WHEAT is constantly on the rise. HORN & FISHEL, No. 91, Front street are constantly giving to purchasers of Clothing and Dry Goods all imaginable advantage, both in price and quality. Their $12 suits are as good as those that other houses sell for $25, and their other Clothing and Gent's furnishing goods as well as Dry Goods, they are selling at extremely low prices also.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used; and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but, on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

☞ Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon:

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife. She had been afflicted with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst, in her present condition. The cough appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr. Randell, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked. Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was effectual; hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use. My candid opinion is, if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house.

Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose. Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam, and during that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured. I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man. I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity, that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been. Yours truly,

WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia M. Holman.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning, and that was all that was needed to cure them. I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was. I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician. I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now. I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind.

Yours truly, SOPHIA M. HOLMAN.

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr. Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all. In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had. Find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma. We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction.

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City.

From W. F. Barber.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me. I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good, till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several afflicted with the same disease, has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.

I am Yours truly,
W. F. BARBER.

From J. H. Morrill.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is so much humbug going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a-days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine. I was afflicted with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time; I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and on this coast, all to no purpose. I could get no relief, and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world. I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me and before I had used up four bottles, the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody; my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it. My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial.

I remain yours, truly,
J. H. MORRILL.

Wool-Growers League.—The Marysville Appeal proposes that the sheep men of Northern California organize themselves into a company with a capital stock say of $1,000,000, with the privilege of increasing their capital stock to $5,000,000, if circumstances require it. Every one who owns fifty or one hundred head of sheep, or any quantity of the value of $100 or more, should be permitted to take stock to the value of their sheep instead of money. For instance, a man owning 8,000 head of sheep worth $2 per head should put them in and take stock to the value of $16,000. If the sheep are worth more, then stock the full value of his flock. A man owning fifty head of sheep valued at $2 per head would be entitled to one share of stock, and so with those who own 100, 200, or 500, or any given number. Let all go into the joint stock company as so much capital stock. The owners of the stock will still own their proper number of sheep and be entitled to draw their proportions of the dividends that arise, not only from the sale of the wool, but also from the sale of sheep and the increase. The benefit to be derived to the stock-raiser is to be found in the fact that a man and dog can herd 1,000 head of sheep as easily as he can 50 head, and that consequently money will be saved in this way.

The above proposition seems to contemplate only the care of sheep. Whether such a league could be of benefit to Oregon wool growers, is extremely doubtful; but a league embracing the wider idea of raising and caring for the flocks, shearing, cleaning and boiling the wool for market and regulating and controlling the sale of the product, would perhaps be a remedy for the impositions to which farmers are satisfied every year they are compelled to submit. Or, suppose that a league be formed for the only purpose of receiving and disposing of the wool product of the state; every wool grower to be a member and to turn over his clip to the regular agents of the league to be tested and sold; would there not be less chance for imposition at the hands of speculators, and less cost of marketing? As in the case of caring for the flock, one man could do the work for ten, twenty or fifty. If a trip to New York were necessary, one man could do it for every wool-grower of the State. An agent at Portland, others at New York and Boston), there could be little use for one at San Francisco), could be supported at far less cost than the commissions now paid to agents of individuals. For the saving of expense, and to provide against imposition, would it not be worth while to try the experiment of a wool-growers' league?

We Were Drunk.—Last evening we received the following communication from Vancouver, relating to our item yesterday morning about Vancouver being on a bender Tuesday evening:

"Vancouver was not drunk on Tuesday. Who said Vancouver was drunk on Tuesday? Seven-eighths of the town are Good Templars. We went through all the town, conversed with all the prominent citizens, and they all say Vancouver was not drunk. We went so far as to speak to the Mayor, he knew nothing about the grave accusation. The fact is, Vancouver was not drunk. Van couver was sober on Tuesday. Everybody knows that. We did not altogether believe the item; so we addressed a Vancouver female:

Oh! woman! in our hours of ease
How fickle, coy and hard to please!

The lady said Vancouver was not drunk; so let that pass. Vancouver, sober, is improving rapidly. The Gen. Allen Engine Co., No. 3, has a very fine building, thirty by eighty-four feet, with a sitting room, thirty by forty feet, well furnished throughout. Col Tripp is putting up a fine two-story brick for Sohns & Pharley, on the corner of Main and Sixth streets. Every indication shows that Vancouver will be a town after a while and have a branch of the railroad; but Vancouver was not drunk on Tuesday."

If our correspondent will re-read our item, he will find that we did not say Vancouver was drunk; we said Vancouver was on a bender. But there was a jollification and lager, and all that; but we trust we did not say drunk, except in a questionable sense, as to certain usually staid and sober (mark, sober) citizens. Our respect for the town of Vancouver, in a collective capacity, forbids that we should say Vancouver was drunk.

Effigies of Produce Arrivals.—A gentleman prominently connected with the purchase of wheat in this city estimates from actual observation that the average number of teams arriving each day this week, with wheat, is not less than three hundred. This is too large an estimate, probably, though on one road, actually seeing the teams come in, could have many hills of their great number. One farmer who came in yesterday morning says he met fifty-four teams between the head of the canyon and this city. They were only those coming in from Tualatin Plains, the day before and remaining over night. Perhaps as many more returned from the other roads. The canyon road is only one of the several roads by which wheat has been coming in. By all of them, according to the best of our information, not less than two hundred loads arrived per day. For the five days of this week, this would make a total of one thousand loads, averaging about thirty bushels each. The aggregate number of bushels would, therefore, be 30,000. The average price for the five days has been about $1 12. If this be correct the buyers have paid out this week, for wheat alone, $33,600. The figures of the gentleman above mentioned are 45,000 bushels, and above $50,000. The rush still continues. Yesterday there was almost a jam of teams on Front street. The farmers are acting wisely in bringing their crop in now instead of putting it by for the still greater rise. Those who have sold are probably in fact, as the news from San Francisco is that wheat has already weakened and the market is in a flurry. A decline will occur very soon.

Most Mysterious.—The mystery which has for some time surrounded Col. J. H. Noyce, seems no nearer solution than a week ago. Nothing whatever has been heard concerning him, in answer either to telegrams, letters or personal search. Mr. S. H. Parrish went to Albany some days ago to prosecute inquiry, but thus far he has sent back no word. On Wednesday to add to the mystery, a package was left by some unknown person at the American Exchange, marked Col. J. H. Noyce, and containing clothes and books which he was known to have taken with him when he left here some weeks since. The package was left, as nearly as is known, about 9 o'clock A. M. One of the employees of the hotel was writing at the front desk when a man came in and without saying a word deposited the package on the counter, and immediately went out. No particular notice was taken of it at the time, but toward evening Mr. Rodgers' attention was called to it when the address was discovered. It may have been left with somebody in the country to be brought in, when Col. Noyce was in Yamhill county just before the Linn county fair; or its appearance now may have some other meaning. There is nothing, however, beyond conjecture, connected with the whole matter.

Recorder's Court.—The following proceedings were had in the Recorder's Court yesterday:

City vs. Clara Chappelle, charge, disorderly conduct. The defendant demanded a jury trial, whereupon the following gentlemen were called and sworn as jurors: R. W. Davis, Jr., Beaser, Francis Brown, Wm. Cree, A. Beck and W. S. Harn. After hearing the evidence, the jury returned the following for a verdict: "We, the jury in the above entitled cause, find the defendant guilty of using indecent language on the occasion named in the complaint." The counsel, Mitchell and Mason, for defendant, objected to judgment being pronounced and obtained that the finding of the jury was not a verdict of guilty. This question will be argued this morning.

J. Mitchell was tried for an assault and battery upon H. Muller. Durior the trial, it appearing in evidence that a dangerous weapon was used, the Recorder held the defendant to answer the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and fixed bail at $200, which was given.

H. Muller was tried for an assault and battery, and fined $5 and costs, amounting to $30.

The other cases pending were continued till this morning.

An Official Visit.—Gov. Woods called on us last evening. One object of his visit is to call upon Gen. Steel for the purpose of a conference about Indian affairs in Union and Baker counties, and if possible to have some further means of protection provided for the people of that section, against hostile Indians. Another object of his visit is to employ counsel for the State to defend against the suits of D. R. Hannah and others, claimants of the estate of Pinkie Carruthers. The State would soon become the owner of the estate under the statute relating to escheats. The State, therefore, has such an interest in the disposal of the property as was contemplated by the law authorizing and directing proceedings to be taken by the Governor in case of large claims to escheating estates. Mr. Mulkey, the Prosecuting Attorney of this district, and Mr. Mitchell are employed for the State.

Arrests.—The following arrests were made yesterday: John Dale, on complaint of J. G. Henrici, accusing him of stealing a watch. Indian John, accused of stealing a clock, gold buttons, etc., from the house of John Doran. These two cases will be tried before the Recorder to-day. John T. Lovelace, of Vancouver, was arrested and taken before Justice Anderson, on complaint of a house to this city, for debt. He gave bonds for his appearance next Monday.

A Very Large Calf.—Mr. A. H. Johnson, at the Pacific Market, had in his shop, yesterday, the carcass of a calf which was a regular "Webfoot" for size and fine proportions. It was slaughtered yesterday morning and though only six months old, weighed over four hundred for sale, and was very fat. A country where better calves than that grow numerously, would be a splendid place for veal eaters to emigrate to.

What's in a Name!—The Owyhee Bullion calls the Good Templars, "Water Tanks." The appellation may be eminently descriptive, but, though a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, we prefer the old designation, Good Templar. Think of promenading with a female "Water Tank!" The thought is chilly and damp We decidedly don't like it.

Penitentiary Birds.—The sheriff of Wasco county went up to Salem yesterday having in his charge Wm McIntyre, convicted of the murder of Marshal Keeler at the Dalles, and sentenced to the penitentiary, for life and E. F. McKinley, convicted as an accessory, and sentenced to four years. The court adjourned on Tuesday.

Personal.—Last evening we met Col. Bow, editor of the Columbia Press, who is just returning from a visit to the up-river counties, the sales and Democratic mass meetings. The Col. thinks Webfoot an "almighty fine country" and he would like to have a big farm in it, say somewhere in Linn county.

Wines and Fruits.—Arrived per steamer Alert, from Oregon City, yesterday, 2 bales and 4 cases woolen goods, 626 bags wheat, 11 gunnies bacon, 20 sks fruit, 9 sks apples, 796 qr sks flour, and 49 bbl bbls miscellaneous produce.

Another Match.—A member of the Spartan B. B. club informs us that a match has been agreed upon between the Spartans and the Shermans of Vancouver, the first game of which will be played at Portland to-morrow.

Treasure Receipt.—The treasure to Wells, Fargo & Co., by the boat yesterday, from the Upper Columbia, amounted to $40,000.

The Next Steamer.—The steamship Orizaba sailed from San Francisco, yesterday, for this port.

Temperance Sermon.—Rev. G. H. Atkinson, by invitation of the Good Templars, preached a sermon last evening at the M. E Church. His text was: "How much then is a man better than a sheep!" We give it up

Barman Brief.—have on hand and for sale at low prices, the largest stock of Clothing in the State

Family Groceries.—Messrs. Hibbard & DeLashmutt, family grocers on corner of First and Taylor streets, have dissolved partnership, and hereafter Mr DeLashmutt will carry on the business "on his own hook." Van, as a printist, was a success, and we trust that as a family grocist, he will be no less so.

Auction Sales To-Day.—The regular semi weekly auction sales of groceries, dry goods, furniture, general merchandise, etc, at the auction store of Falk & Kruemer, will open to-day, Oscar Kilbourn, auctioneer. The sale will open at 10 o'clock A M corner of Front and Washington

The Proprietor of the Lafayette Restaurant takes pleasure in informing his friends and the public in general, that from this date, and during the oyster season, he will keep his establishment open at night until 2 o'clock A. M, and will serve Oysters and Suppers in every style.

From Judge Marquam.—I have used Henley's Roya Balsam for a bad cough, and I find it a splendid medicine. I have recommended it to a great many. They speak very highly of the medicine, and I freely recommend it to the public

☞ We have but little confidence in the trumpet tongued statements of the proprietors of advertised medicines generally, but we are forced to concur in the opinion, unhesitatingly expressed by all who have used Perry Davis' Pain Killer, that it is a very valuable article, and one that it would be well for every household to have at hand, in case of bruises, scalds, burns, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera, fever and ague, and the host of ills, internal and external, which it is adapted to cure or alleviate. No article of medicine ever attained to such unbounded popularity and extensive diffusion. It has penetrated to every part, even the most remote, of the known world, bearing with it its healing influences more potent than those of the spices of "balmy the blest." We are informed by our principal druggists, that they sell more of this article for exportation than any or all others, and that the demand is constantly increasing.—Salem Observer.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

A Doctor of Divinity on the Observance of the Sabbath.

On Sunday evening, recently, Dr. Stebbins, of San Francisco, preached there, as by announcement, on Sunday laws. His text was from St. Mark, "The Son of Man is Lord also of the Sabbath." The Oakland Journal contains a synopsis of his sermon, thus:

"Over 3,000 years ago the Sabbath was instituted by the Jewish law, given as a sanitary measure, providing a periodical day of rest for a wearied people. After a while the peculiar ideas and customs of the Jews entered into it, making it a religious holiday. It has, amid the wreck of nations, been handed down, century after century, to each succeeding generation, even to our own. It never was a more popular institution than it is to-day. It has received the approval of that progressive humanity which has taken the lead of nations, which has brought time and space almost within its grasp, and which represents the ideas of intelligent manhood. The authority on which the observance of the Sabbath is based, may be summed up as follows. The approving voice of more than 3,000 years, and the general belief in its beneficial effects. Those who claim more than this are guilty of pious fraud.

Intrinsic merit is the only authority needed to prove that an institution is good. The authority of Christianity is Christianity itself, so the authority of the Sabbath is the Sabbath itself. The institution of one day in seven as a day of rest has met with the approval of all the intelligent generations of men for ages, and it is not to be supposed that they will reverse their judgments unless the nature of the men changes. But how shall the Sabbath day be spent? A certain class of men would have it observed as a strictly religious day. The tendency of man is to endeavor force their religious or moral principles upon others. One school of men would like to place all others in a position where they will be compelled to be good. This spirit has written the darkest page of history and is antagonistic to progress. Now comes the subject of legislation. Shall the law recognize the day as a strictly religious day? This would be an undue assumption.

The old heathen saying: "That sins which are committed to the Gods, the Gods will take care of," is, notwithstanding its origin, a good one. No Legislature has a right to interfere with the moral action of men. The number of religious professors in a State is much less than one-half of the population, and it is not right that they should dictate as to the conduct of the rest, the day of the family; of the flavor and aroma of human life. He was opposed to having more than one religious service a day, and he thought no restriction should be made against the innocent activities of mind and body. It is impossible to devote a whole day to devotional exercises, and it would be unwise to exercise it. No one day should be considered in itself more religious than another. One reason why so few are converted to religion is in the fact that most of its professors have sought to divorce it from life, hence many have conceived that it is something to be rammed down their throats, instead of being as the bright sun which shines on the farmers' field regardless of fences.

Christ was continually repudiating this notion; no day was better than another to him. He mingled with good men and bad men and even with shameless women. At Jericho he met and dined with the Publican, and therefore received the condemnation of the Pharisees. He instituted no forms, not even the Sabbath. He declared the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath. Those who claim for the day an especial divine character can find no authority. If they look to the Scriptures, he should celebrate Saturday and make it a day of fasting. Our Sabbath stands in the same relation to the new religious era as the Fourth of July does to our country. It is a periodical commemoration of its birthday. Because a man is not religious, it does not follow that he is irreligious; because a large majority of men are not religious, it does not follow that they are irreligious. A large number of men represent neither one thing nor the other, and when ministers of the Gospel attempt to draw lines of division between the good and bad, they isolate Christianity from the mass of mankind.

He declared that he was in sympathy with this very class of people, and were he an atheist, (as he would be, should his candid confessions lead him to that conclusion,) he would repudiate the right which others might claim to supervise his moral actions. Then what shall we do with these people who do not choose to spend the day as we do? Do with them? Why, we will do nothing with them! Then let us away with the Sunday Law. Some would stop the street cars! But a man who works for eighteen dollars a week should be permitted to ride on Sunday for eighteen cents as well as the rich merchant in his carriage for ten dollars. What! stop the cars and leave the livery open? In Philadelphia, that city of fashionable religion, of gilt-edged hymn books, the cars are stopped on Sunday, and the streets are filled with the teams of the wealthy! In that city, on week days, negroes are forbidden to ride with white men in the cars! If Jesus Christ should come to that city he would be worse treated than he was at Jericho.

No! Let us have a large park; reading rooms and libraries! This people must not be governed; they must be educated."

Two Significant Speeches.

The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph of yesterday prints the annexed. The comments of the Telegraph will be endorsed by every union-loving man after reading the two speeches:

Below we publish in connection the speech delivered by the late President Lincoln at the dedication of the Gettysburg cemetery, and that of Andrew Johnson delivered yesterday at Antietam. Let the people read and compare them, noting the full-hearted, overflowing patriotism and devotion to liberty of one, and the cold and non-committal, pointless platitudes of the other.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN ON THE BATTLE-FIELD OF GETTYSBURG.

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation so conceived and dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We are met to dedicate a portion of it as the final resting place of those who here gave their lives that the nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow, this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work that they have thus far so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain, that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that the government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON ON THE BATTLE FIELD OF ANTIETAM.

My Fellow-Countrymen: In appearing before you it is not for the purpose of making any lengthy remarks, but simply to express my appreciation of the ceremonies which have taken place to-day. My appearance on this occasion will be the speech that I will make. My reflections and my meditations will be in silent communion with the dead, whose deeds we are here to commemorate. I shall not attempt to give utterance to the feelings and emotions inspired by the address and prayers which have been made, and the hymns which have been sung. I shall attempt no such thing.

I am merely here to give my countenance and aid to the ceremonies on this occasion, but I must be permitted to express my hope that we may follow the example which has been so eloquently alluded to this day, and which has been so clearly set by the illustrious dead, when we look on your battle fields and think of the brave men on both sides who have fallen in the fierce struggle of battle, and who sleep silent in their graves. Yes, who sleep in silence and peace after the conflict has ceased.

Would to God we of the living could emulate their example as they lie sleeping in their tombs, and live together in friendship and peace! [Applause.] You, my fellow-citizens, have my earnest wishes, as you have had my efforts in times gone by, in the earliest and most trying perils, to preserve the Union of those States, to restore peace and harmony to our distracted and divided country and you shall have my last efforts in vindication of the flag of the Republic and of the Constitution of our fathers.

The cheap newspaper press of London have played an exceedingly important part in connection with the Reform bill. Without this press there would have been no Reform bill proposed; and without it no such sweeping scheme of popular enfranchisement could ever have been carried through Parliament. The cheap press has been a tremendous agency in acting upon the workingmen themselves, and it has been a no less formidable agency through which the workingmen have acted upon their political masters. It must now become a far greater force than ever, and its power will be permanently felt and recognized in all the future legislation of Great Britain.

Welcome.

[From the St. Louis Democrat, September 17th.]

On the train from New Orleans the Union's favorite soldier is riding Northward. Riding not now, as on that pleasant morning in 1864, to bring in his single person reinforcement and victory to a beaten army. He comes from a battle won. Honored by the country, honored by removal at the hands of the country's worst enemy, he comes to learn from the loyal people that no Presidential edict can tarnish the fame of the brave soldier and the faithful statesman. Riding through a land wasted by rebellion and cursed by rebellion's curse, he comes to a State in which rebellion and its cause have both been crushed. Past the low entrenchments thrown up by a renegade New Yorker to defend New Orleans against the nation; past the earthworks at Port Hudson, where the first shout was raised in 1863 for a river opened and a rebellion divided; past Vicksburg where thousands of brave men gave their lives to break the backbone of the rebellion; past Shiloh, where rebels first learned that Northern endurance was worth more than Southern dash, past Stone river, whom his men with empty cartridge boxes still stubbornly resisted under a fire that gave to one spot the name of "Hell's Half Acre;" past all the heroism of Chickamauga and all the glory of Lookout mountain; past Nashville, where Hood's army dashed itself in pieces against the grand defense of Thomas, as waves break on the rocky shore; past Cairo and all the rich lowlands of the Prairie State, Phil. Sheridan comes Northward to receive such a welcome as loyal men only can give a patriot heroes.

Welcome, then, to a State which has led the vanguard of opinion through all the war, and which leads it still. Welcome, from the men who were the first in all the Southern States to elect an anti-slavery Congressman, to the State which was first to abolish slavery and to establish in place of it a free and loyal government. We welcome you, not as we did the President, for the office, not the man. We honor the gallant soldier; we honor his memorable deeds and services; and we honor still more the clear head, the rapid will and the stout heart, to which the country will trust in any time of need. We welcome in you the ideal American soldier, combining more than the fire and élan of the Frenchman with more than the steady persistency of the Briton—the soldier who, more than any other, has taught the world what swift and terrible blows a free people can strike. With you come thronging memories of the death grapple in the Wilderness, the steady advance toward Richmond, and the terrible struggle at Cold Harbor; of the thrilling news from Winchester and Fisher's Hill and Cedar creek, and the cheers for Lincoln and Sheridan that went ringing over the land scaring Copperheads to their holes; of the raid above Richmond and the weary siege; of the right wing swinging around like a closing door at Five Forks and smashing the very life out of the rebellion; of the tireless pursuit and the dispatch praying Grant to come on and capture his foe; of the lightning flash at Sailor's creek, and the closing scene at Appomatox. Then the right hand of the nation in the fight became its right arm in the work of reconstruction. We remember the fiery dispatches that a President stooped to mutilate in vain—dispatches which dealt with "my policy" as the sabre stroke at Five Forks dealt with the rebellion. We remember with thanks the removals of Monroe and Wells. We honor the rebuilder of Louisiana. We honor the man whose pluck and shrewdness forced a treacherous President to throw off the mask. We welcome to-day the rare union of soldier and statesman. To your many deeds time will do justice. But the people do justice to themselves rather than to you in expressing on every proper occasion their admiration and gratitude.

It is said that republics are ungrateful. If Andrew Johnson spoke for us, the republic would indeed be disgraced. But he speaks for those who were beaten at Winchester and Petersburg. He speaks for men who welcome no loyal soldier in their hearts. He speaks for those from whom praise were dishonor, and who cannot compliment except by their hatred. That there are thousands in this city for whom he does not speak, we hope to show. But the millions of the loyal North whose eyes moisten, and whose hearts leap with grateful feeling whenever they think of you, will find, General, some more feeling method of proving that republics are not ungrateful.

Democratic Orator Confounded.

[From the Columbus (Ohio) Journal.]

We are informed that a village in one of the "backbone" Democratic counties was the scene of a funny incident a few evenings since, whereby a Democratic orator was utterly confounded and brought to grief by men of his own party. The circumstances are as follows:

He had told them how the rich bond-holder had reduced them to slavery in despite of the efforts of the Goddess of Liberty and several other personages, both human and celestial, till then unknown to the audience. He quoted extensively from George Francis Train's "demagogue" speech, and among other things the following:

"Work! work! work!
From the dawn to the dusk of day,
For your hopes are crushed with a weight of debt,
That the toil of your life won't pay!"

Having wrought up his hearers almost to mutiny, he left that branch of his subject and proposed to show up some of the Republican leaders, beginning with Ben. Wade. "Why, fellow-citizens," said he, "there is Ben. Wade, a regular agrarian, who wants all the property divided so that every man will have an equal share." [Thundering applause, and cries of "Bully for him!" "That's the ticket!" "He's the man for me!"] "Why, fellow citizens," said he, "Wade is a Radical and an agrarian; he—" [Deafening applause, and yells of "Good for the Radicals!" "Bully for the 'grarians!"]

The speaker was thunderstruck. Evidently his hearers had never heard much of Ben. Wade and the Radicals. They had been well stirred up against the rich, and they thought that radicalism was a species of Democracy, of which Ben. Wade was the champion.

"Gentlemen—fellow citizens," continued the speaker, "I don't think you exactly understand me. Ben. Wade is the Vice President, elected by the Radicals, and he is himself a Radical, and an agrarian land pirate to boot. Why, what do you think? He proposes to take the rich man's property, for which he toiled in early life, and give it to those who have no property, even to those who do no work. What do you —"

A voice. "Three cheers for Ben. Wade!"

And in spite of all that two or three village leaders, candidates for constable and supervisor, could do, the crowd gave three thundering cheers for Ben. Wade and the "'grarians." The orator finding, that he had got on the wrong track, abruptly brought his remarks to a close. A lie, in that instance, made Ben. Wade several friends, yet we scarcely feel like congratulating him on the acquisition.

INTERESTING LETTER WRITTEN BY MAXIMILIAN JUST BEFORE HIS DEATH.—The following letter was written by Maximilian two days before his execution:

QUERETARO, Prison of Las Capuchinas, June 1, 1867.—Dear Baron Lago, Minister of Austria to Mexico: I am done with the world; my very last wishes are in regard to my mortal remains which will soon be freed from all pain, and in regard to those who must survive me. My physician, Dr. Basch, will have my body brought to Vera Cruz. He will be accompanied only by my two servants, Gull and Tudos. I have ordered that my body be transported without any pomp or solemnity to Vera Cruz, and that on board the vessel that is to bring it to Europe no unusual ceremony take place. I have awaited death calmly, and I wish to be left in the same stillness when in my coffin. You will take measures, my dear Baron, so that Dr. Basch and my two servants, who take my body in care, may accompany it to Europe on one of the two war vessels. Over there I wish to be buried beside my poor wife. If the news of my poor wife's death should not prove true, my body should be placed somewhere until the Empress rejoins me in death. Have the goodness to see that the necessary orders be forwarded to Captain Groslior. Have also the goodness to take measures so that the widow of my faithful companion in arms, Miramon, can go to Europe on one of the two war vessels. I reckon the more on the fulfillment of this request, as she is charged by me to remain with my mother at Vienna. I again thank you from my heart for the trouble which you take on my account, and I remain your well-wishing MAXIMILIAN.

CARVING CHARACTER.—Did you ever watch a sculptor slowly fashioning a human countenance? It is not molded at once. It is not struck out at a single blow. It is painfully and laboriously wrought. A thousand blows round cast it, ten thousand chisel points polish and perfect it—put in the fine touches, and bring out the features and expression. It is a work of time; but at last the full likeness comes out, and stands fixed and unchanging in the solid marble. So does a man carve out his own moral likeness. Every day he adds something to the work. A thousand acts of thought, and will, and effort, shape the features and expressions of the soul. Habits of love, piety and truth—habits of falsehood, passion or goodness, silently mold and fashion it, till at length it wears the likeness of God or the image of a demon.

☞ BRONCHITIS OR CHRONIC SORE THROAT—It is attended with irritation of the bronchial tubes, which convey the air we breathe into the lungs. This irritation produces sore throat, hoarseness, coughing, and sometimes spitting of matter streaked with blood. If it is neglected it will extend down to the lungs, and settle into confirmed consumption. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will be found a most valuable remedy for curing this disease, and prevent its running into Consumption.—Sold by dealers in family medicines generally.

We should not suffer from a Cough, when a few doses of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL will cure. Time, comfort, health, are all saved by it.

CARD.
DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Pharenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.
We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.
The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.
Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."
Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

IN TENDERING MY SERVICES TO THE PUBLIC, I desire to call the attention of those who suffer from the effects of Private Diseases, such as Primary, Secondary and Tertiary forms. I shall endeavor to effect a permanent cure to those who will follow my precepts and directions, using no Mineral Drugs whatever, as my practice is exclusively Botanical or Vegetable.
Onanism or Self-Abuse, another curse of our present generation, the cause of so many morbid symptoms that so often baffle the skill of the physician, will be entirely annihilated by complying strictly with my method of treatment. Consultations by letter or otherwise Free, and promptly answered.
Furthermore, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Typhoid, Bilious, Intermittent Fevers, etc., Asthma, Incipient Consumption, Bronchitis, Loss of Appetite, and Female Complaints cured in all their forms whatever, by W. B. DIEFENBACH.
☞ Persons will remember that the above mentioned diseases CANNOT BE CURED WITHOUT INTERNAL REMEDIES, whatever puffy advertisements may assert against it. Address
